SPEAKER SERIES

LOCATED ON LEVEL 3, SUITE 344

THURSDAY, APRIL 25

10:00 am—11:00 am JAPANESE MAPLES IN THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA LANDSCAPE

Barry Hoffer, owner of Maples for All Seasons Nursery, will talk about the various Maple varieties; when and where to plant them in the landscape, how to plant and care for them, and the general rules for pruning.

11:30 am—12:30 pm THE GARDEN AS ART

There is more to your garden art than just a beautiful statue. Teena Spindler, UCCE Master Gardener, will help you find ways to include spectacular plantings along with new-found treasures to create both beautiful and relaxing spaces.

1:00 pm—2:00 pm SUCCESSFUL ORCHID GROWING IN ORANGE COUNTY

Tony Glinskas, Executive Officer of Fascination of Orchids, Inc. will offer tips and advice on how to successfully grow and bloom orchids in the local area. He will discuss the selection of the easy-to-grow orchids and the basics of their care. There will also be a plant re-potting demonstration.

2:30 pm—3:30 pm FROM YOUR HERBAL GARDEN TO YOUR PANTRY

Chef Debbi Dubbs will share her herbal gardening tips and talk about how to use herbs in your cooking, lotions and bath. (Book signing following the presentation)

4:00 pm—5:00 pm EASELS IN EDEN: MONET'S GARDENING AND PAINTING AT GIVERNY

Dr. Eric T. Haskell, Professor of French & Humanities at Scripps College will discuss the relationship between Claude Monet's gardening practices and painterly techniques as he used them to create over 500 canvasses in the landscape at Giverny from the 1890's until his death in 1926. Dr. Haskell will talk about how Monet moved beyond representation to abstraction and thus prefigured the Modern aesthetic in the most subtle of terms.

5:30 pm—6:30 pm THE ART OF HEALTHY GARDENING— YOU ARE WHAT YOU EAT

Thomas Chaplin, Dr. Earth's National Program Manager will talk about the "art" of a healthy lifestyle and why Dr. Earth is the only "Probiotic" 100% natural and organic product line in the United States that is 100% people and pet safe.

FRIDAY, APRIL 26

10:00 am—11:00 am BACKYARD BEES: KEEPING HIVES ALIVE

Janet Andrews and Kelly Yrarrázaval, co-founders of Backyard Bees.net, began rescuing and relocating local honeybee colonies in 2007. With the plight of the honeybee in decline, these two women beekeepers, gardeners and mothers have brought back the art of beekeeping in Orange County. Janet and Kelly will talk about their innovative chemical-free hive rescue and relocation service. They will also discuss organic bee-keeping methods, the inside of the hive and facts about honey.

11:30 am—12:30 pm EDIBLE LANDSCAPING

Tom Farrell, UCCE Master Gardener, will discuss edible landscaping as an exciting and vibrant way to combine, both functions and of aesthetics within a landscape. You will learn to use food plants as design features, elevate carrots from food products to lacy, leafy rosettes.

1:00 pm—2:00 pm HYDROPONICALLY SPEAKING

Join David Clark, Horticulture Instructor for the Buffalo and Erie County Botanical Gardens in Buffalo, New York and Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for an entertaining and educational presentation on Hydroponics. Learn how to create easy set-ups for your gardening space using readily available materials. David will construct several systems for appropriate plants. Bring your questions for David to answer.

2:30 pm—3:30 pm ART GOES NATIVE: LANDSCAPING CREATIVITY WITH NATIVE PLANTS

The native landscape has inspired art and design for centuries, so why not create landscapes inspired by art? Reginald Durant of Back to Natives will demonstrate ways of turning traditional landscape designs into artistic works that are creative, abstract or formal. Discover ways to play off the basic shapes of nature using themes like labyrinths and rainwater harvesting. Find out how to use native plants in innovative ways while still maintaining their ecological benefits: water conservation, pesticide elimination, animal habitat, etc. The presentation will include pictures of the ecosystems and natural features which inspired designs. Participants will see the actual landscape designs, watch as traditionally landscaped yards are transformed, and receive a list of plant materials used.

4:00 pm—5:00 pm INTRODUCTION TO BROMELIADS FOR INTERIOR AND EXTERIOR LANDSCAPING

Larry Tabeling, President of Live Art Plants, will introduce many bromeliad varieties. He will talk about growing bromeliads in the home and in the landscape. Larry will also demonstrate how to divide and propagate bromeliads, and discuss their basic care.

5:30 pm—6:30 pm FABULOUS FAIRY GARDENS

Julie Bawden-Davis and Beverly Turner, co-authors of the new book, Fairy Gardening: Creating Your Own Magical Miniature Garden, will share their secrets for designing a miniature landscape that will inspire and delight your friends and family. Fairy gardens are the hottest trend in the nursery industry and Beverly was at the forefront of the current miniscaping craze. All attendees will be entered in a drawing to win a free fairy garden. (Book signing following the presentation)

7:00 pm—8:00 pm WILD BIRD GARDENING

Dave Brandt, General Manager and Certified Bird Feeding Specialist for Wild Birds Unlimited in Mission Viejo will discuss the relationship between your garden plants and how they can attract beautiful wild birds to your garden. By planting the right flowers, shrubs and trees, you can create a wild bird habitat in your very own backyard. By combining the beauty of your garden with the beauty of nature's wild birds, you can open up a world that you may not have known existed.

SATURDAY, APRIL 27

10:00 am—11:15 am THE ART OF THE PATIO: STYLE, COLOR AND GREAT PLANTS

Pat Welsh, author of Pat Welsh's Southern California Organic Gardening, Month by Month. Pat's exciting talk will show you how to utilize style, color schemes, design, and great plants to create an artistic patio for outdoor living, entertaining and year-round family fun. Learn the art of selecting the finest color plants and small trees that grow best in patios and how to choose the perfect spot for each plant. Many tips and hints for growing specific plants such as geraniums, begonias, bougainvillea and other vines, bulbs, dwarf citrus trees, vegetables and annual flowers. Illustrated with spectacular slides full of take-home ideas. (Book signing following the presentation)

11:30 am—12:30 pm GROWING ORGANIC STRAWBERRIES YEAR-ROUND IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Learn to grow nutritional, organic strawberries year-round. Julie Bawden-Davis, author of The Strawberry Story: How to Grow Great Berries in Southern California, will discuss the best strawberry types for Southern California, planting, fertilizing and watering. Julie's presentation will include a strawberry tasting and there will be year-round strawberry plants available. (Book signing following the presentation)

12:45 pm—1:45 pm PERSONAL GARDENS: TERRARIUMS, MINI, FAIRY AND STRING GARDENS 101

Terrariums, miniature and fairy gardens as well as string gardens are the ultimate in personal garden art. Meant to be enjoyed up close, garden designer Shirley Bovshow showcases some of her favorite creations, (by her and other designers) and presents the basics to make these beautiful and viable gardens. Shirley will cover plant selection, resources for accessories as well as ideas for repurposing materials for your garden masterpiece. Shirley will be giving away a prize at the end of her presentation.

2:00 pm—3:00 pm RESTORATIVE GARDENS: LANDSCAPING FOR HEALTHIER HEARTS AND MINDS

Some people call it magic, those inspired landscapes that create restful hearts, peaceful bodies and buoyant thoughts. Designing and building therapeutic environments, Restorative Landscaping is a budding discipline whose goal is to improve physical and emotional wellbeing. Join author Douglas Kent as he highlights the nine most influential attributes of a healthful, restorative garden.

2:00 pm—3:00 pm WHAT'S BLOOMING IN THE KITCHEN?

Macy's South Coast Plaza Home Store, Demonstration Kitchen welcomes Francisco Diaz, Executive Chef of Signature Kitchen and Wolfgang Puck Bistro Restaurant. Guests will have the opportunity to meet Chef Diaz, enjoy a cooking demonstration and sample his recipes.

3:15 pm—4:15 pm TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING: CAN ORGANIC AMENDMENTS HURT YOUR LANDSCAPE?

Dr. Linda Chalker-Scott, Associate Professor, Department of Horticulture at Washington State University will talk about how gardeners are bombarded with products that promise to improve water retention, enhance plant growth, improve soil nutrition and fight pests and disease, and how many of these products have no demonstrated effectiveness, and at times can create even worse problems. Dr. Chalker-Scott will debunk many myths and give gardeners better choices. (Book signing following presentation)

4:30 pm—5:30 pm GROWING ORGANICALLY IN YOUR BACKYARD

Successful growing begins with a soil environment teeming with life. Joyce Jong, Certified Soil food Web Advisor will explain how to create healthy soils by encouraging a healthy soil food web. Come discover the keys to creating and sustaining an organic garden that is productive and beautiful.

6:00 pm—8:00 pm SAIKEI THE LIVING LANDSCAPE

Saikei: The Living Landscape with Mr. Frank Goya, Bonsai Master with a lifetime of bonsai experience. Mr. Goya, an instructor himself, is known as one of "The Iron Men" of Bonsai throughout the bonsai community. He is one of the original founding bonsai artists of Southern California and has traveled extensively teaching and demonstrating the art of "Saikei" (Sigh-Kay), a living landscape. Mr. Goya will be assisted by Herb Eisenberg, past president of Dai Ichi Kai and prolific bonsai-ist, who will provide narration and commentary during the demonstration. By studying landscapes in nature, we can envision a saikei that could be constructed on a slab of stone or large shallow pot.

SUNDAY, APRIL 28

11:00 am—12:00 pm THE "DOWN TO EARTH" SECRETS OF GARDENING

Alan Piercy, President and CEO of ENRECOS, will discuss important information about creating and maintaining beautiful gardens by providing your plants organic immune boosters and growth enhancers that cause them to thrive. Revealing the "Down to Earth," actually underground secrets of having healthy, attractive plants.

SUNDAY, APRIL 28
continued

12:15 pm—1:15 pm GROWING AFRICAN VIOLETS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Leonard Re, African Violet Grower and Accredited National Judge has over 30 years growing experience in Southern California and currently has a collection of over 150 African Violets and their cousins (Gesneriads). While demonstrating repotting violets, Leonard will discuss the best soil mixes, watering techniques, fertilizers, lighting and containers to use in growing African Violets.

1:30 pm—2:30 pm PAINTING WITH PLANTS: CREATE YOUR PICTURE PERFECT GARDEN

As a landscape designer and a professional fine artist/illustrator, Jane C. Gates, owner of Gates & Croft Horticultural Design, sees gardens as three-dimensional paintings to be viewed from all angles—inside and out. Learn to create a picture-perfect garden by choosing the right plants and materials. Select for shapes, colors and textures, then group them to move the eye from one point to the next, using focal points and the guidelines of your existing property. A successful garden design needs to combine a wise choice of plants that will thrive where you put them, some artistic design principles and just a dollop of fun, creativity, imagination—and maybe even a pinch of rule-breaking. (Book signing following the presentation)

2:45 pm—3:45 pm CARE AND MAINTENANCE OF EXOTIC CACTI AND SUCCULENTS FROM OTHER LANDS

Steve Frieze and Artie Chavez, co-managing partners of Desert Creations, will discuss and offer advice on the care and maintenance of truly exotic plants from Africa, Madagascar, South America and other unusual succulents from around the world. The conversation will focus on advice and tips on how to care for these types of plants. Information on watering, what types of soil to use, fertilizing, and guidance on pest control will be discussed. Pictures of some of the specimen will be presented during the talk. There will also be a small display of the exotic plants so attendees can see live examples of the plants we discuss.

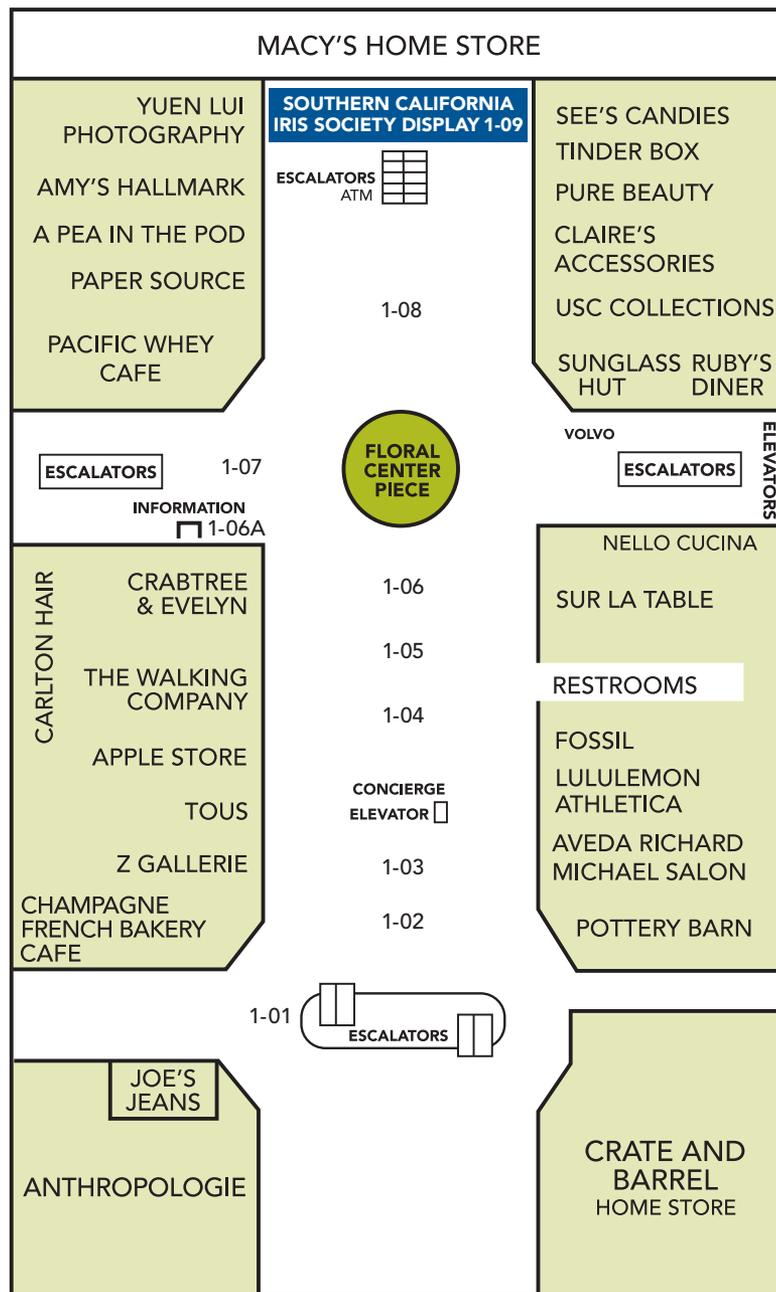

4:00 pm—5:00 pm THE ART OF PRESERVING THE GARDEN

Debbi Dubbs and Cinda Webb, UCCE Master Food Preservers will talk about the beautiful, safe, nutritious food from your garden and how to safely preserve your strawberries.

5:15 pm—6:15 pm THE ART OF GROWING NATIVE

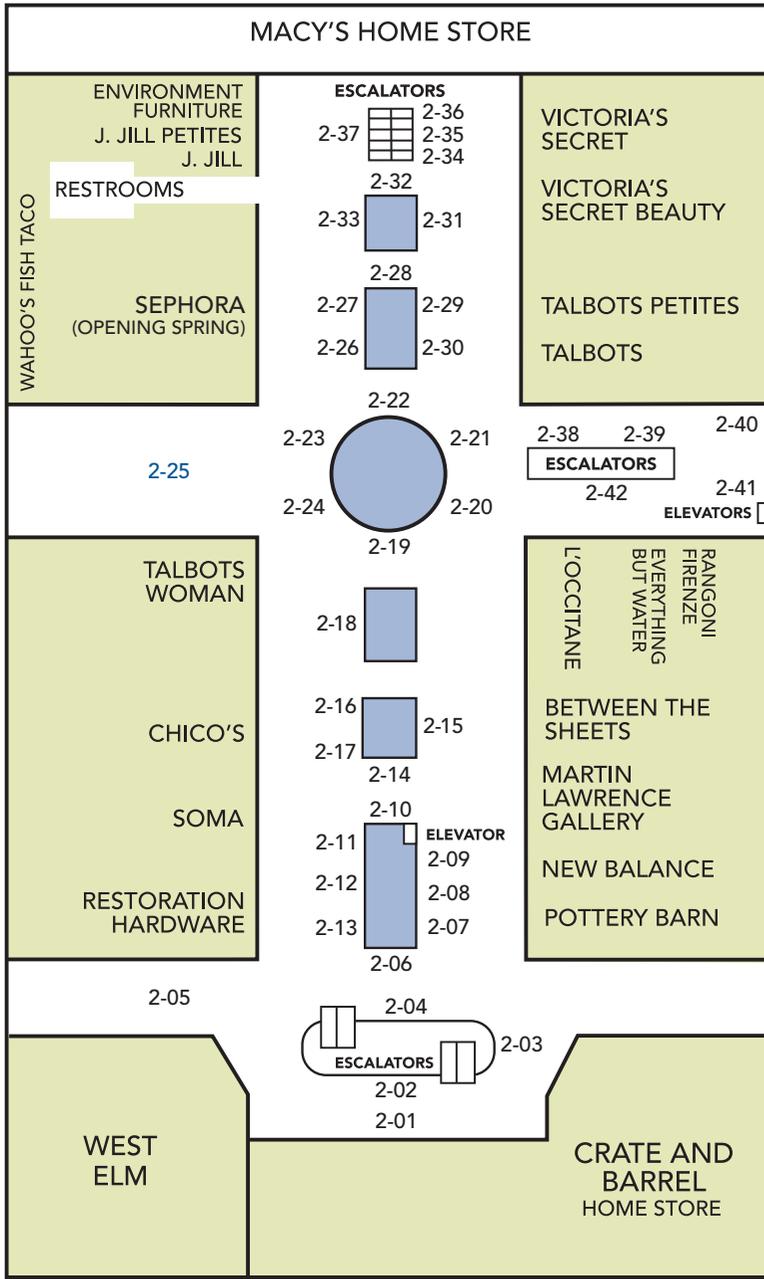

Rob Moore, California Native Landscape Designer, will discuss how California native plants can add to the aesthetic value of a garden. Decorative bark, arresting branch patterns, play of light, and color on different leaf shapes—all add up to the visual appeal of the California native garden. Mr. Moore will present a wide range of examples from gardens, large and small, throughout Orange County. He will also reveal the native plants that lend themselves to artistic expression and describe how these can best be displayed in the garden.

ANDY WARHOL "BOTTICELLI'S VENUS"

THE ART OF ANDY WARHOL "BOTTICELLI'S VENUS"

Center Display, Designed by Don Davidson
Created and decorated by Fiesta Parade Floats

In a striking tribute to the American Pop Art movement of the 1960's South Coast Plaza presents the art of Andy Warhol. Famous for pushing the artistic envelope of his time, Warhol emerged at the forefront of the new movement. With commercial products and celebrities as his subjects, he became a cultural icon and worldwide celebrity. From Campbell's Tomato Soup cans to Marilyn Monroe, Chairman Mao to flowers, his paintings and silkscreens reflect that amazing time.

Andy Warhol painting, Botticelli's Venus, is held aloft on a massive artist's easel soaring nearly 20 feet tall. This is Warhol's portrait interpretation of the equally famous Italian Renaissance painting of Venus by Sandro Botticelli, commissioned by the famed Medici family of Florence, Italy.

The interpretation of Warhol's Venus is created with a unique combination of paint and floral materials. Venus' flowing hair is fashioned with a harmonizing blend of dehydrated safflower, red bell pepper and carrot flakes with accents of gold strawflowers. Golden hybrid Vanda orchids, orange lilies and exotic Opal Parakeet heliconias create the 3-dimensional effect.

Walnut shell, cinnamon spice and paprika make up the skin tone and shading. Black chive and deep brown flax seeds create the background of the famous painting.

Below, beneath the artist's easel, a stack of unfinished painter canvases featuring thoughts and ideas "painted" with brilliant hues of roses, gerberas, anthuriums and lilies, accented with a myriad of contrasting vibrant blooms and floral textures.
