

The 4-H Animal Science Symposium is a professional development opportunity for 4-H staff and key volunteers on key topics and skills relating to animal welfare and animal health. Central to the 2016 symposium will be a foundational training on the new Animal Welfare Proficiencies, which participants will implement back home with 4-H volunteers and junior/teen leaders.

Each county can bring a team to participate.

County 4-H staff are responsible for identifying their county teams (2-4 people).
