

What to do about harassment?

Any of these actions are appropriate and you do not need to complete one to proceed to another. The most important thing is to take action.

Option 1 Direct Approach	Option 2 Report to Campus Authority	Option 3 Report to Government Agency
Often, the most effective method to put an end to harassment is to tell the person to stop. Let the person know the action is unwelcome. Ignoring the situation will not make it go away.	Tell your supervisor EVERY supervisor has the legal obligation to receive reports of harassment.	California Equal Employment & Resolution Office http://oag.ca.gov/eeo 1-800-952-5225
	Contact the Campus Police If the harassment is in the form of a serious criminal assault, you may wish to report directly to the police.	U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) http://www.eeoc.gov/contact/index.cfm 1-800-669-4000
	Call the Office of the President's confidential hotline at 1-800-403-4744 or on the EthicsPoint online reporting system: https://secure.ethicspoint.com/domain/media/en/gui/23531/location.html?cid=23944	USDA Discrimination Complaint Filing http://www.ascr.usda.gov/complaint_filing_cust.html
	Contact ANR Affirmative Action http://ucanr.edu/sites/anrstaff/Diversity/Affirmative_Action/	