

Saturday, February 9, 2019

Gladys Valley Hall, UC Davis

(Also available via live webinar from 8:10 AM – 5:00 PM PST)

To register, visit: <http://www.cvent.com/d/rbq2kt/4W?RefID=cv>

Join us for a day of learning and networking with other beef producers. This event is being held in conjunction with the 2019 Winter Conference. Topics include the following:

- Environmental Issues and Sustainability -- Frank Mitloehner, PhD
- Legislative Updates (Federal Land Grazing/Management) -- Justin Oldfield, BA
- Common Vitamin / Mineral Deficiencies and the Diagnoses in CA Cattle -- Jeffery Hall, DVM, PhD, ABVT
- The Past, Present and Future of Cattle Deworming -- Gabriele Maier, DVM, MPVM, PhD, DACVPM
- Biosecurity and Reportable Bovine Regulatory Diseases -- Alyssa Louie, DVM, MPVM
- Advanced Reproduction Techniques -- Bret McNabb, DVM, DACT, DABVP

Cost for the event:

FARM Club: Saturday onsite (lunch included) = $45; Saturday webinar = $40

Visit our registration website to register:

<http://www.cvent.com/d/rbq2kt/4W?RefID=cv>

We are thrilled to have Dr. Jeffery Hall as our invited guest lecturer from Utah State University. He will discuss some of the common problematic vitamin and mineral deficiencies that affect cattle.

For more details about this program please visit the event website (<https://ce.vetmed.ucdavis.edu/symposia-events/2019-winter-conference-farm-club-track>). If you have any questions, feel free to contact the UC Davis SVM CE office (530-752-3905 or svmcontinuing@ucdavis.edu).

