

University of California

Agriculture and Natural Resources

Pathways to Your Future

Beginning January
2012

Pathways to Your Future is a new project designed to help you succeed in the university system! Are you worried about being admitted into college, facing the challenges of attending college or figuring out which direction to go once you are there? These questions and more will be answered through this new project. Each project meeting will focus on preparing you for college and how to graduate with a degree in a field of study that sparks your interest. Topics to be covered include:

- Connect your academic and career aspirations to your passion
- Identify the steps needed to reach your dream
- Improve your goal setting techniques
- Increase your understanding of pathways to higher education
- Increase your knowledge of the University of California
- Learn from career and admissions advisors
- Go on campus tours and experience the University
- Identify your unique pathway
- Explore the possibilities of the Collegiate 4-H program

How to sign up! Merced County
For More Information and to how to register Contact:

Darlene L McIntyre
dlmcintyre@ucdavis.edu
209-385-7418

Two projects will be offered. One will meet at the Merced 4-H Office and the other in Los Banos.

More details to come