

The University of California Small Farm Program develops real-world research aimed at the needs and opportunities of small-scale farmers.

We serve the small-scale farming community by:

- connecting farmers with scientific research
- researching in fields and in markets
- consulting one-on-one with growers
- publishing news and research, in print and online
- serving as a clearinghouse for farm-related questions
- organizing events to exchange information
- focusing university work on small-scale farms

Small Farm Program

Program areas include:

- specialty niche crops
- direct marketing
 - agritourism
 - farm management
 - pesticide safety
- water quality
- food safety
- risk management

Our Program

Director: Shermain Hardesty

Small Farm Center

(530) 752-8136

sfcenter@ucdavis.edu

UC Small Farm Program advisors

Santa Clara, Santa Cruz & San Benito:

Aziz Baameur (408) 282-3127 azbaameur@ucdavis.edu

Santa Barbara & San Luis Obispo:

Mark Gaskell (805) 934-6240 mlgaskell@ucdavis.edu

San Diego:

Ramiro Lobo (760) 752-4716 relobo@ucdavis.edu

Tulare:

Manuel Jimenez (559) 685-3309 mjjimenez@ucdavis.edu

Fresno:

Richard Molinar (559) 456-7555 rhmolinar@ucdavis.edu

www.sfp.ucdavis.edu