

What do farmers and doctors have in common and how can they teach us about health and well-being?

Farmacology

UC Marin Master Gardeners

present author

Daphne Miller M.D.

Friday, August 23, 2013 6-8:30 pm

American Legion Hall

500 Magnolia Ave.
Larkspur, CA 94939

Tickets:

$30 in advance

$40 at the door

Purchase Tickets:

<http://ucanr.edu/farmacology>

Limited Seating!

Join Daphne Miller MD in a discussion about her latest book, Farmacology: What Innovative Family Farming Can Teach Us About Health and Healing, which chronicles her year-long exploration of sustainable agriculture where she learns from farmers and ranchers how to be a better family doctor. Miller approaches medicine with the idea that health and healing may be found not only in the medical system but also in edible gardens, farmsteads, home kitchens, ranches, nature trails and more.

Before the talk, enjoy appetizers from Nicasio Valley Cheese Company and local artisan purveyors. Taste wine from Scribe and Zarembo. Meet local farmers and community members interested in this vital topic. Learn what Master Gardeners are doing to create a healthy environment for Marin County.

Daphne Miller is a practicing physician and a contributor to Health, a section of the Washington Post. She's been profiled in the New York Times, O Magazine, Harvard Medical Magazine, Vogue, the Michael Krasny Show, Dr Oz Show, and others. <http://drdaphne.com>

This is a Benefit for UC Marin Master Gardeners, a group of dedicated volunteers who provide research-based horticultural information to residents of Marin County.

<http://marinmg.org>