

Foothill Ranch Library presents: The UCCE Master Gardeners

What's Bugging Your Plants? Saturday, March 10th, 2:00-3:00p.m.

Face it. You can't get rid of all the insects in the world, let alone in your yard . . . but you can learn to manage them so that your plants will thrive.

The University of California Cooperative Extension (UCCE) Master Gardeners will teach you how to 'outsmart' the bad insects and attract the beneficial ones. They will give you tips on prevention, avoidance, suppression and responsible pest control.

Free and open to the public!
