Overview

January 13th 6-7:30 pm

What does it take to be a Smart Gardener? Knowledge – and application of that knowledge – about soil care, irrigation, energy conservation, pest control, and wildlife. Sound complicated? This series of presentations makes it simple and will help you to save time, money, and create a healthier garden.

What's in Your Soil? – Soil Basics

March 9th 6-7:30 pm

Good soil is the starting place for a smart garden. Learn the components of soil, how to evaluate your landscape soil, and the steps you can take to enrich your soil to produce a bountiful, sustainable landscape and garden.

Water Better Not Wetter

May 11th 6-7:30 pm

If you think conserving water means that you have a barren landscape, think again! Discover how you can have a beautiful landscape by managing water and gardening smartly. Learn irrigation tricks and tips that will save you money and time while helping the environment.

Energy Smarts for the Garden

July 13th 6-7:30 pm

What does energy have to do with a garden? Plenty. Smart gardening energy is all about what you plant, where you plant, and how you care for your garden. Planting the right tree in the right place can actually save you money. Learn simple steps you can take to conserve energy.

What's Bugging Your Plants? (Integrated Pest Management [IPM])

September 14th 6-7:30 pm

Face it. You can't get rid of all the insects in the world, let alone in your yard . . . but you can learn to manage them so that your plants will thrive. Find out how to 'outsmart' the bad insects and attract the beneficial ones. Get tips on prevention, avoidance, suppression and responsible pest control.

Create a Wildlife Habitat in Your Yard

November 9th 6-7:30 pm

No, not the lions-and-tigers-and-bears kind of wildlife! More like the small critters such as birds, bees, butterflies and lizards. Attract wildlife by creating a welcoming habitat. Learn to restore a natural balance, and then reap the benefits as you enjoy watching these small creatures right in your own backyard.
