

UC Cooperative Extension Home Hardening SciPub

UC Cooperative Extension and the Sierra Streams Institute invite homeowners, renters, and other interested community members in Nevada and Placer Counties for a conversation about protecting your home from wildfires. We will dispel myths about products and materials, offer science-based solutions for construction, design, and maintenance; and provide an opportunity for shared, experiential learning.

Sit back, have a beverage, and learn about home hardening, defensible space, and how these topics relate to fire insurance in California!
