To Our County Staff:

May I introduce to you the members of the state staff of the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California. I would like to make this introduction in person, but our Extension family is big, and so is our state.

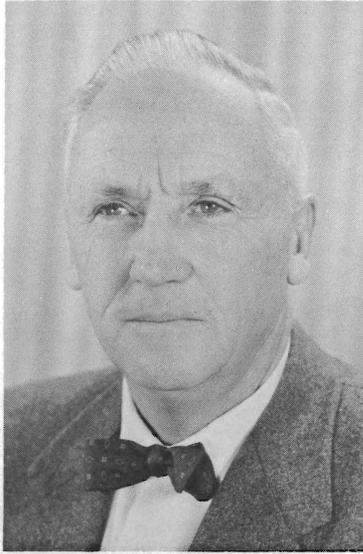

As members of the county staffs, you are the direct links between the people of your counties and the University of California and the United States Department of Agriculture. State staff members offer you assistance in their special fields to help you with your local problems. We have listed these persons under their specialties for your convenience.

We hope this publication will help you to become better acquainted with the names and faces of the persons you can turn to for information and advice.

Co-operative Extension work in Agriculture and Home Economics, College of Agriculture,
University of California, and United States Department of Agriculture co-operating.
Distributed in furtherance of the Acts of Congress of May 8, and June 30, 1914.
George B. Alcorn, Director, California Agricultural Extension Service.

OCTOBER 1963, Rev.

NEW EXTENSION STAFF MEMBERS - April - May - June - 1966

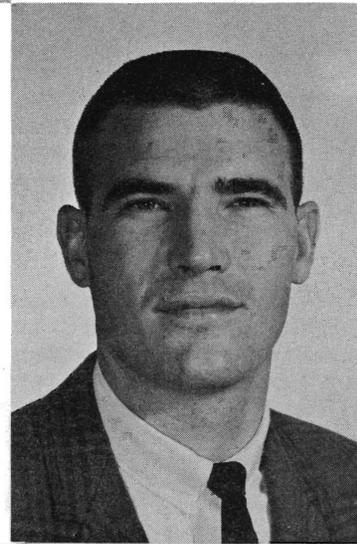

Mary Edmundson, 23, now is Extension assistant in San Joaquin County with 4-H responsibilities. She had 10 years of 4-H Club work in Kansas and Oklahoma, and her mother is a home agent in Nevada.

She was graduated from Kansas State University in 1965, majoring in home economics. She is a member of the American Home Economics Association. Her hobbies range from reading to re-finishing furniture to singing.

Floyd J. Perry, 25, married, is Extension assistant in Butte County with responsibilities in pomology and entomology. He has a B.S. degree from California State Polytechnic College and his master's degree from University of California, Davis. He majored in horticulture and pest control.

He once lived on a farm near Gilroy, was a member of California Young Farmers, and later was a member of Alpha Zeta. He worked as a laboratory assistant in the pomology department at Davis while in college. Fishing, hunting, and other outdoor sports interest him.

A former FFA member at Bakersfield, Gary L. Suthers, 24, married, now is farm advisor in Orange County with responsibilities for citrus and avocados.

He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of California, Davis, in 1965 and then moved to the Riverside campus to obtain the master of science degree this year. His hobbies include athletics.

Frances Haddock, 22, Extension assistant in Nevada and Placer Counties, was graduated from Oregon State University this year with a bachelor of science degree. Her major concern in the counties is 4-H work.

She was prominent in 4-H Club work in Tulare County for 10 years and lived on a 120-acre farm near Visalia. Her hobbies include reading, cooking, and traveling.

Peter Passof, 29, formerly forester for a large timber company in Arcata, now is farm advisor giving major attention to forestry and multiple use of wildlands in Mendocino County. He received his B.S. degree from Humboldt State College and then his M.F. degree from Yale University School of Forestry.

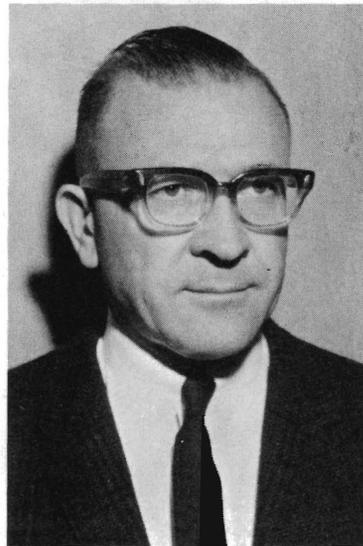

He is a member of the Society of American Foresters, the National Wildlife Federation, and the Western Forest Genetics Association. He has a wife and one child. His hobbies include photography, water sports, and camping.

Robert T. Petersen, 28, is a farm advisor in Nevada County with responsibilities for agronomy in that county. He will do some work in Placer County. He received his BS and MS degrees from the University of California, where he was also research assistant. Later he was with the U.S. Army, and then operated a dairy farm near Solvang for two years.

He is a member of Alpha Zeta, Sigma Xi, and the American Phytopathological Society. Fishing, bird hunting, and traveling make up his hobbies. He and his wife have one child.

Gale G. Gurtle, 46, is farm advisor with dairy and livestock responsibilities in Orange County. He received both his BS and MS degrees from Washington State University, and then spent several years as county agent in Whatcom, Yakima, and Spokane Counties. He was county chairman of the Spokane staff.

Brought up on a farm, Gale was a 4-H Club member and worked much of his way through college. He holds membership in Alpha Zeta, Phi Kappa Phi, and Epsilon Sigma Phi. He comes to Extension from a position with the Palo Verde Irrigation District. Photography and camping are two of his hobbies. The Gurtles have two children.

No newcomer to California is Robert A. Parsons, 26, Extension agricultural engineer, who is a native of Davis. He obtained his bachelor of science degree from the University of California, Davis, and studied toward his master's degree from Cornell University. He expects to receive it in February.

Bob worked as an engineering aide in the UC Department of Engineering while in college and then spent two years in the army. He is a member of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi. He and his wife have one child. His hobbies are swimming, fishing, and electronics.

NEW EXTENSION STAFF MEMBERS — March, April, May, 1965

Roger Benton, 30, is helping with test plot work in the Tulelake area. He is a new Extension assistant for Modoc-Siskiyou Counties.

Roger received a B.S. degree from the University of Arizona in 1962 and this month obtained his M.S. degree from the University of Nevada. While studying in Nevada he served as research technician.

Reared on an Iowa farm, he developed such hobbies as hunting and fishing. Mr. and Mrs. Benton have three children.

Jerry D. Smith, 34, is Butte County farm advisor concerned with field and vegetable crops. He obtained both his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Oklahoma State University, the latter in 1955. His education and interests have centered on agronomy.

Jerry has been associated with the U.S. Department of Agriculture as research agronomist, first at Stillwater and then at Davis. At Davis he has been working on research with castor beans and other crops.

He has written journal articles and reports for the USDA. His hobbies include golf and photography.

Lucille Marquart, 23, is preparing for the summer 4-H events as home advisor (4-H) in Madera County. She achieved an excellent record as a club member in San Luis Obispo County for more than 10 years.

Lucille received her B.S. degree in home economics from the University of California, Davis, in 1964 and her secondary teaching credential this year. At Davis, she served as a resident assistant and house adviser.

While in school, she took part in many activities and organizations. She served as president of Titus Hall 1 year.

Milo H. Swanson, 48, holds the position of Extension poultry specialist, with headquarters on the Riverside campus. He, his wife, and their three children now live in that area.

Milo was associate professor of poultry at the University of Minnesota, after obtaining three degrees including his Ph.D. from that university. Between his first two degrees he taught vocational agriculture. He has written numerous journal articles and prepared many University of Minnesota publications. He is a member of Sigma Xi, Poultry Science Association, Institute of Food Technologists, and others.

He expects to find a favorable environment for his chief hobby, flower raising, in his southern California home. He also enjoys hiking and camping.
