

California AGRICULTURE

Reports of Progress in Research by the California Agricultural Experiment Station

Volume 7 Number 4

APRIL 1953

National and Farm Incomes
Page 2

Orchard Sprinkler Irrigation
Page 3

Alfalfa Hay
Quality
Page 4

DDT Resistant
Leafhoppers
Page 5

Acaricides on
Apples and Pears
Page 6

Cyclamen Mite
on Strawberry
Page 7

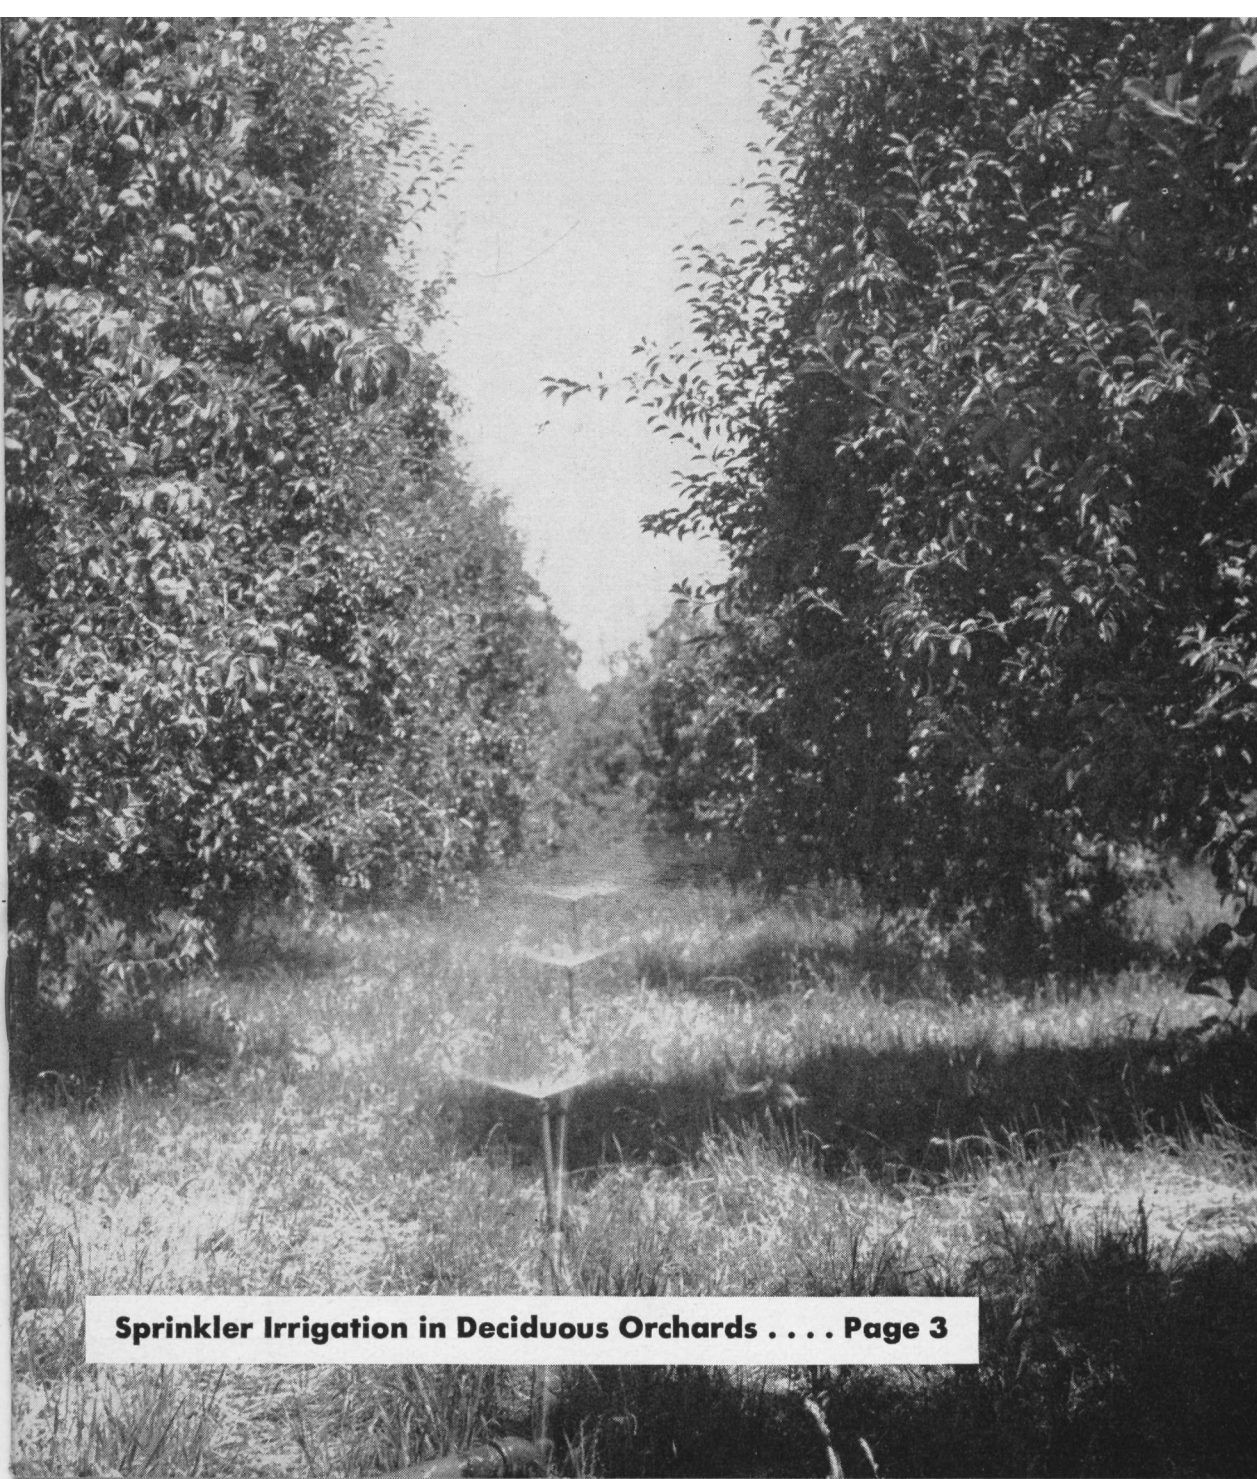

Nematode Control
on Cotton
Page 8

Studies of Systox
on Cotton
Page 9

Aphid Control
on Walnut
Page 10

Pests of Red
Kidney Beans
Page 11

Efficiency in Fruit Marketing
Page 14

A black and white photograph showing a perspective view down a row of trees in an orchard. In the foreground, a sprinkler system is active, with a fine mist of water being sprayed from a central point. The ground is covered with grass and weeds. The trees are dense and leafy, creating a tunnel-like effect.

Sprinkler Irrigation in Deciduous Orchards Page 3