

Runze Yu is an Assistant Professor of Viticulture at CSU Fresno. His work has focused on canopy practices and trellis selections in wine grape vineyards across the state. His presentation at Sonoma Grape Day will focus on issues related to heatwaves and sunburn damage in California wine grape vineyards and the practical solutions to future-proofing wine grape production to climate change.