

KINDS OF COMMUNITY GARDENS

Community gardens include any garden where people come together to garden, generally food.

12 COMMUNITY GARDENS

bring people together on public or private land to garden in plots, usually rented by gardeners for a nominal fee.

84 SCHOOL GARDENS

educate youth about nature and gardening and are found at public and private schools.

14 RESIDENTIAL GARDENS

are shared among residents of apartment, assisted living, or affordable housing units.

13 INSTITUTIONAL GARDENS

are associated with public or private organizations and provide beneficial services that may include rehab, therapy, and skill-building.

9 DEMO GARDENS

provide education to the public on specific topics including food, native species, fire-wise, and pollinator gardening.

4 FAITH-BASED GARDENS

are tended by religious groups on faith-based lands and often produce food for the congregation and those in need.

