

Welcome new County Director for Fresno, Madera, Kings and Tulare County

Karmjot Randhawa

The University of California Cooperative Extension, Division of Agriculture and Natural Resources for Fresno/Madera/Kings/Tulare Counties is pleased to welcome Karmjot Randhawa as the new 4 County Director. A Central Valley native, Karmjot joins us from George Mason University where she was the Research Translation Operations Manager at the Center for Climate Change Communication. As the new County Director, Karmjot is responsible for the coordination and overall operations of Cooperative Extension programs in Fresno, Madera, Kings and Tulare Counties. Karmjot will oversee the effective educational and applied research programs as well as provide direction and leadership to the academic and support staff within the county extension programs. Karmjot looks forward to increasing the visibility of UCCE by communicating the positive impacts and benefits realized by the citizens of the Central Valley and the state through the activities and contributions of these units.

Karmjot received her BS and MS in research psychology at California State University, Fresno and received her MBA from Johns Hopkins University. She is also currently completing the Climate Change and Health Certification Program at Yale University. Please join us in welcoming Karmjot to the team!

Karmjot can be reached at 559-241-7514 and by email at kgrandhawa@ucanr.edu
