POLICY

4-H Policy and Information Update September, 2012

Recently, some parents have inquired about the University's photo release policy. The University of California 4-H Youth Development Program has always maintained a policy where parents (and youth for that matter) can ask to have a photo removed from any UC publication and UC owned website. The University takes very seriously the privacy consideration of parents and will honor any request to have pictures of themselves or youth removed. Having said that, please keep in mind that it is practically impossible to have an opt out option for families. Here are three examples to highlight the difficulty in having one:

Scenario 1:

Camp staff take a yearly picture of all 200 campers and that is put on the county website. Since we do not know all 200 youth we are not able to verify which youth did and which did not sign the photo release (identifying each and every youth to ensure we have a photo release, and then photo shopping the youth out whose parent's did not sign it would be extremely time consuming).

Scenario 2:

Pictures of youth are taken at presentation day and then a family sends the picture to the county office but it has some other youth in the background and we don't know the names of the youth so we can't check to see if they signed a photo release.

Scenario 3:

There are 400-500 youth at State Leadership Conference, and we have pictures being posted on our Facebook page (which is monitored by 4-H state office staff), website, and afterglow from the event - we would not be able to use any of these if we had an opt out option because we would not know the names of the youth to be able to use any of the photos. Youth are not self-identified in pictures used for these purposes.

As you can see, because youth are not self-identified in most pictures, having an opt out option will be too difficult to manage. Again, if you see a picture of your child or children in any UC publication or on any UC owned website and you do not want it published please contact the County office and will work to have it promptly removed.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at kcnathaniel@ucanr.edu or (323) 260-3845.

- LA County 4-H Outreach Competition

Dawn Fuller, 4-H Program Coordinator

In the new 4-H year, it is necessary for all of us to focus on growing our club membership in regards to youth membership and adult volunteers. Those of us who are involved in the 4-H Program, do so because we believe in the 4-H Program and want youth to have a valuable “learning by doing” experience that will help carry them through life and be the best they can be. The 4-H Program has been around for over a hundred years, and we intend for our program to grow by leaps and bounds in the coming months. We are so excited that you as leaders, and the youth members in your clubs, will be a part of this extreme program expansion, and we look forward to hearing all about the new and innovative strategies you will be employing to help grow your clubs in the new 4-H year!

A perfect example of creative outreach strategies were demonstrated throughout the last 4-H program year in a variety of ways. A number of LA County 4-H youth participated in a special Grow Your Club Competition and Most Innovative Outreach Plan Competition hosted by the LA County 4-H Office. We are thrilled to report the winners for the competition as follows:

Top Winners for the Grow Your Club Competition

Harbor Lights 4-H Club (grew youth enrollment by 300%)

Pomona Valley 4-H Club (grew youth enrollment by 60%)

Eastside Antelopes 4-H Club (grew youth enrollment by 44%)

Top Winner for the Most Innovative Outreach Plan

Youth member of Harbor Lights 4-H Club, Daniel Espinosa, created and submitted a detailed Outreach Plan for growing his club which included the following strategies:

- Daniel spoke at his club meetings about club growth and asked youth members to spread the word about his club and about 4-H events and activities. He communicated with fellow members and received input from them on how to get this accomplished.
- Daniel assisted club members in creating promotional club fliers and handing them out and posting them in their neighborhoods, at their schools, churches, restaurants and to their friends and family.
- Daniel assisted the Harbor Lights 4-H Community Club Leader in planning a Primary Project so that interested youth could sample a variety of projects that the club and 4-H offers, and created a flier for the project. He posted the fliers at local places where parents and youth might see them (schools, churches, clubs, restaurants).
- Daniel used his public speaking skills learned in 4-H to talk about 4-H and Harbor Lights 4-H Club at community events he attended to get the word out (at the church he attends, youth group meeting places, homeschool gatherings, local fundraisers, and before and after all club meetings).
- Daniel encouraged club members to bring friends to club meetings and helped plan a couple of special activities to invite friends of club members to. He brought his own friends to meetings and events. In an effort to acquaint potential members with his club, Daniel helped plan ice cream socials, park days and a club Christmas party where the club members had fun, and Daniel worked on encouraging members to spread the word about 4-H and his club.
- Daniel asked club members to write a paragraph about one of their favorite projects and put them together as a booklet about his club. These were in turn handed out to club visitors.

Results

As a result of Daniel creating and implementing his outreach plan, Daniel received phone calls and emails from interested youth and their families. These interested youth members decided to join the Harbor Lights 4-H Club. Daniel made notes on what worked and what didn't and is currently revising his outreach strategies for the new 4-H year. Way to go Daniel!

- Safety First

Dawn Fuller, 4-H Program Coordinator

Some of us may work on or around farms, ranches, and with livestock. Safety is an important part of our 4-H project work, and we are reminded at the beginning of each project meeting the safe steps we need to take – no matter what the project is. National Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week takes place September 16-22, and it is a good time to brush-up on some good general safety practices we may have forgotten.

Livestock

When working with animals, we may be having so much fun that we forget ourselves for a moment, and the fact that we can get seriously hurt if not paying close attention. When working with large livestock, here are some important tips to keep in mind:

- Animals can only see in black and white, and so their vision isn't as sharp as humans. They probably aren't able to judge distances as good as we do, so be aware.
- Animals have a more acute sense of hearing than we do, and any loud or sudden noise may frighten them into a movement or behavior that we aren't expecting. Keep this in mind and be mindful of this fact.
- When animals are in a new surrounding with extra stimulus (for example weigh-ins at the fairgrounds), they may become slightly agitated by both noise and surrounding, and not "act themselves." Proceed with caution in these settings and be extra kind to your animal.
- When possible, do your best to avoid the hind legs of large livestock.
- Do not approach an animal from behind in a quick way, and don't ever run around a loose animal. Instead, approach an animal near its shoulder area in slow motion.
- Use a kind voice with your animal.
- When you see a mama with her baby, it probably is not a good time to approach her, or the baby.
- If an animal looks or seems like it isn't feeling good – it isn't. Let an adult have a look. Animals who aren't feeling well react in ways we, or even they, might not expect, which could be dangerous.
- 4-Hers are not permitted to work with, or around stallions, bulls, or rams.
- Always wear proper attire for working with animals, including sturdy, closed-toed shoes and long pants.
- When horse riding, wear a properly fitted helmet with a chin harness at all times that meets ASTM/SEI standards: (<http://animalscience.uconn.edu/equine/helmetSafety/index.htm>).
- Always wash your hands with soap and water after working with your animal. If soap and water are not available, hand sanitizer will work until you get a chance to wash them properly.
- When you are handling your animal, try not to touch your face or rub your eyes. You can get sick or you can get your animal sick - believe it or not!
- Keep small children away from your livestock.
- If someone is hurt by an animal, do not walk up to the animal - call for help.
- Always be alert and aware.

Large Amounts of Grain

- Do not ride on a grain wagon.
- While we rarely use silos in our area. If you encounter a silo, do not enter a silo without an adult present.
- Lock doors to grain structures.
- When working with large amounts of grain, always let your leader or family member know you will be doing so.
- Areas where grain is stored are not for playing in. Grain can easily trap and cover you if moved in the wrong way.

Manure

- Make sure to muck out your animal stalls regularly.
- Dispose of manure in the designated area to do so.
- Wear the proper clothing when mucking a stall (i.e. boots, jeans, long sleeved shirt, gloves, etc.).
- Manure produces a gas that can make you very sick if it isn't disposed of properly, and it isn't good for your animal to be in a stall that isn't cleaned on a regular basis either.
- Wherever your manure disposal area is designated, be sure that it isn't near a water source, as the manure and water combined could contaminate areas outside of your farm.
- Use a properly functioning wheelbarrow to transport manure from one place to the next.

Tractors

- According to 4-H policy, only youth aged 17 and older may operate a tractor after orientating themselves with safe tractor curriculum or "Clover Safe Notes" on tractor use.
- Practice using a tractor for the first time in an open field or in a flat area.
- Tractors and other equipment used on the farm are not toys and should be respected for the large and important work (and potentially dangerous if not used safely) machinery that they are.
- Always try and use your best judgment when operating farm machinery.
- Never "hitch a ride" with a friend operating a tractor, or let someone do so with you.
- Stay out of the path of someone operating a tractor.
- In case you are in an emergency situation, turn off the tractor immediately.
- Tractors are equipped with seatbelts - wear one.
- When you stop the tractor, apply the brake.
- Try and stay on flat areas (avoid hills or large dips in the land).

- Tractors make a lot of noise, and remind those around you to stay clear, and that you won't be able to hear them clearly if they speak to you while you are operating one.
- Take it slow when making a turn.
- Check out your surroundings, and don't start or drive a tractor until everyone is far away.

General Tips

- Always keep a bottle of water with you when working on a warm day.
- If you will be in the sun all day – wear sunscreen.
- Don't ride on the tailgate or in the back of a truck.
- If you don't know how to do something - just ask an adult.
- If you think a situation seems dangerous – it is. Call an adult to help out.
- Make sure you know where the fire extinguisher is on the property.
- Familiarize yourself with general first aid techniques, and keep a well-stocked first aid kit nearby.
- When you are done working on a farm or with livestock for any reason, wash your hands with soap and warm water – give them a good scrub!

Clover Safe Notes

The California 4-H Program has wonderful resources for safety in most all situations, and you can view safety tips in a particular area here:

http://safety.ucanr.org/4-H Resources/Clover Safe Notes by Project Area/

Many of us may live on or around a farm, and although it may be a part of our daily lives, we still need to be mindful of safety at all times. You may not have the opportunity to be on or around a farm, but when you do, if you use these important safety tips – you will be ready! During National Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week (September 16-22) let's be reminded of how important safety is year-round.

Noel Keller, Incentives & Recognition Committee Chair

Attention Club Officers - Old and New!! President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, Reporter, Historian and all other club officers! There is now a new club Officer Book gold medal pin that can be awarded to club officers who submit their 2011-12 (last 4-H year) officer book to the county officer book competition by September 11th or 12th, 2012. If you were a club officer last year, it is not too late to submit your officer book in the 2011-2012 officer book competition. The judging for the officer books is Danish, so all officers have a chance to earn an Officer Book gold medal for their club officer work and book. Go to (link for 2012 county officer books info) for more information about this opportunity. Contact the 4-H office, your club leader or a member of the county I&R committee if you have questions. The results of the 2011-12 competition will be announced at the County Awards Program on October 13th at the Agua Dulce Women's Club building in Aqua Dulce.

New 2012-2013 club officers can start planning now for their entry in the competition for next year. - Announcing the New Highest California 4-H Youth Award!
The Incentives and Recognition Advisory Committee is pleased to announce the launch of the California 4-H Diamond Clover Award. The Diamond Clover is awarded to the highest achieving 4-H youth members through an application and essay process. All youth who achieve the qualifications are eligible for this award. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year and while a young person is between 17 and 19 years of age. Each quarter, applications are reviewed by the Incentives and Recognition Advisory Committee and awards are given. Awardees are announced annually at the State Leadership Conference. Applications are available now for submission beginning July 1, 2012 at http://www.ca4h.org/Administration/Advisory\_Committees/IR/
Rationale: Most youth serving organizations have a highest honor—Boy Scouts have Eagle Scouts, Girl Scouts have the Gold Award, Camp Fire USA has the WoHeLo Award. While the 4-H State Ambassador Program is a very high honor, it is a working honor and is prohibitive to many who may be deserving of a highest youth award.
- It is time to start the selection process for the 2013 Salute to Excellence 4-H Volunteer Awards. The National 4-H Salute to Excellence Volunteer Recognition Award recognizes 4-H volunteers who demonstrate exemplary service to 4-H, while promoting service through volunteerism as both an opportunity and a privilege. Additional information is available at <http://www.4-h.org/resource-library/grants-awards/opportunities/salute-to-excellence-awards/>.

The categories are as follows:

1. The Volunteer of the Year Award is for individuals who have served as 4-H volunteers for less than 10 years at the local, county, district or state level.
2. The Outstanding Lifetime Volunteer Award is for individuals who have served 10 or more years at the local, county, district or state level.

Mail completed nomination packet(s) to the State 4-H Office, Attn: Shannon Dogan, University of California, Davis, One Shields Ave., DANR Bldg., Davis, CA 95616. If you FED EX the packet please send it to the State 4-H Office, Attn: Shannon Dogan, DANR Building, 225 Hopkins Road, Davis, CA 95616.

Nominations should be received by October 2, 2012 to be considered. The State 4-H Office will verify with county 4-H staff that the volunteer is enrolled and in good standing. - The State 4-H Fashion Revue committee announces categories and service projects for 2013 SFR! Entry categories will be Traditional, Consumer Science Purchased, Wearable Art-Embellished, 2 Yard Wonder, and Duct Tape Challenge.
  - Traditional: new this year, the entry must be sewn by the member as part of his/her 4-H Clothing and Textile project.
  - Consumer Science Purchased has a $19.99 limit, shoes and sales tax not included. Receipts for all items showing except shoes are required, with purchases made during the 2012-2013 4-H year. The $100 CS Purchased category will not be offered.
  - The Wearable Art – Embellished entry must start with a purchased garment. Duct tape entries are not eligible for WA-Embellished.
  - 2 Yard Wonder is a Challenge category: using 2 yards of 100% cotton fabric, sew a garment and an accessory. Additional garments to complete the outfit may be sewn or purchased. There is no specific pattern requirement. The entry must be sewn by the member as part of his/her 4-H Clothing & Textiles project.
  - Duct Tape Challenge: Create a wearable garment out of duct tape such as a jacket, shirt, pants, skirt or dress. The member may choose to begin with a purchased garment or not. Additional garments, accessories, fabric and materials may be added.
  - For all entries, the outfit must be produced and modeled by the individual member. The outfit must meet SFR modesty guidelines.
  - A member may only qualify to enter one outfit at SFR. To reduce confusion, counties are encouraged to adopt this policy: At county fashion revues where a member may enter more than one outfit, the garments, accessories, and shoes for each outfit must be distinctly different. An item in one outfit may not also be used as part of another outfit.
  - Counties may offer additional categories that do not advance to SFR.

State Fashion Revue is coordinating two service projects. The first is a sewn teddy bear or doll. The second is a drawstring bag. Patterns and instructions will be posted on the SFR website. SFR will continue to accept quilts for troops to pass on. If you, your project, or your county would like more information about SFR, these categories and service projects, or would like to join the committee, please visit <http://www.ca4h.org/Programs/Events/SFR/>

HEALTHY LIVING

- Surgeon General's Report outlines key steps to further reducing tobacco use among youth
Tobacco use among American middle school and high school students showed a slow decline from 2000 to 2011, according to a report from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. But when compared with other long-term studies, such as the Youth Risk Behavior Survey, the steep rate of decline from 1997 to 2003 has slowed noticeably. The report published today shows that in 2011 nearly 30 percent of high school males and 18 percent of high school females used some form of tobacco. More than 8 percent of middle school males and nearly 6 percent of middle school females used some form of tobacco in 2011. learn more

- 4-H Fund Development

<http://www.ca4h.org/Projects/SET/SETResources/PP/>

4-H has a compelling message and demonstrable impacts that are well aligned with the interests of private funders. However, securing funding from these new sources requires a set of strategies for engagement based on long term relationship building and ongoing investment rather than a singular fundraising approach based on short term gifts.

- Grants for Youth

Funded by the May and Stanley Smith Charitable Trust

Deadline: Rolling

The trust seeks to foster healthy development and future independence by increasing opportunities for children and youth up to age 25. Organizations should strive to achieve a long-term, sustainable difference in the lives of the people they serve, offering a comprehensive set of services designed to break the cycle of poverty rather than simply providing a service to meet immediate needs. Programs of greatest interest offer direct services to disadvantaged children and youth, such as academic enrichment and support, mentoring and youth leadership, arts outreach integrated with school curriculum, and recreational activities and camps incorporating youth development objectives.
