

Evaluating your resources

Is agricultural tourism for you?

Penny Leff
UC Small Farm Program

Agritourism is:

- Any income-generating activity conducted on a working farm or ranch for the enjoyment and education of visitors.

Why Agritourism?

For Visitors

- Relaxation
- Authentic Experience
- Participation
- Time with family & friends
- Memories
- Excitement and adventure
- Connection with farmers & ranchers & the natural world

Why Agritourism?

For Farmers and Ranchers

- Additional income
- Educate about agriculture
- Promotion of agricultural products

Overview:

Evaluating your resources

- Revisit your goals
- Identify your competition, customers & collaborators
- Assess your community
- Assess what you have
- What you can do
 - defining limitations
- Revisit your goals again
- Plot activities

Overall business goals

Some examples:

- Support family
- Maintain rural lifestyle
- Provide employment for family members
- Provide for retirement on farm or ranch
- Help support sustainable community
- Get rich

Operation's current capabilities and situation

- How well is current operation meeting your business goals?
- What changes are planned for your current operation?

How could a tourism venture contribute to your business goals?

- What goals do you have for an agritourism or nature tourism enterprise?

Identify your competition & potential collaborators

- With your family & other business partners:
 - Find out what agritourism and nature tourism exists in your community
 - Visit if you can
 - Talk with successful operators
 - Book a room or a tour
 - Observe & ask questions

Assess your Community Resources

- Natural Beauty
- Cultural & Social Characteristics
- Cultural and Recreation Offerings
- Food, Lodging, Shopping & Entertainment
- Public Infrastructure
- Attitudes Toward Tourists
- Accessibility
- Existing Tourism Activity

Begin to identify your ideal customers

- “Shotgun” approach is expensive and rarely effective
- Choose and target a customer sector within the agritourism and nature tourism industry

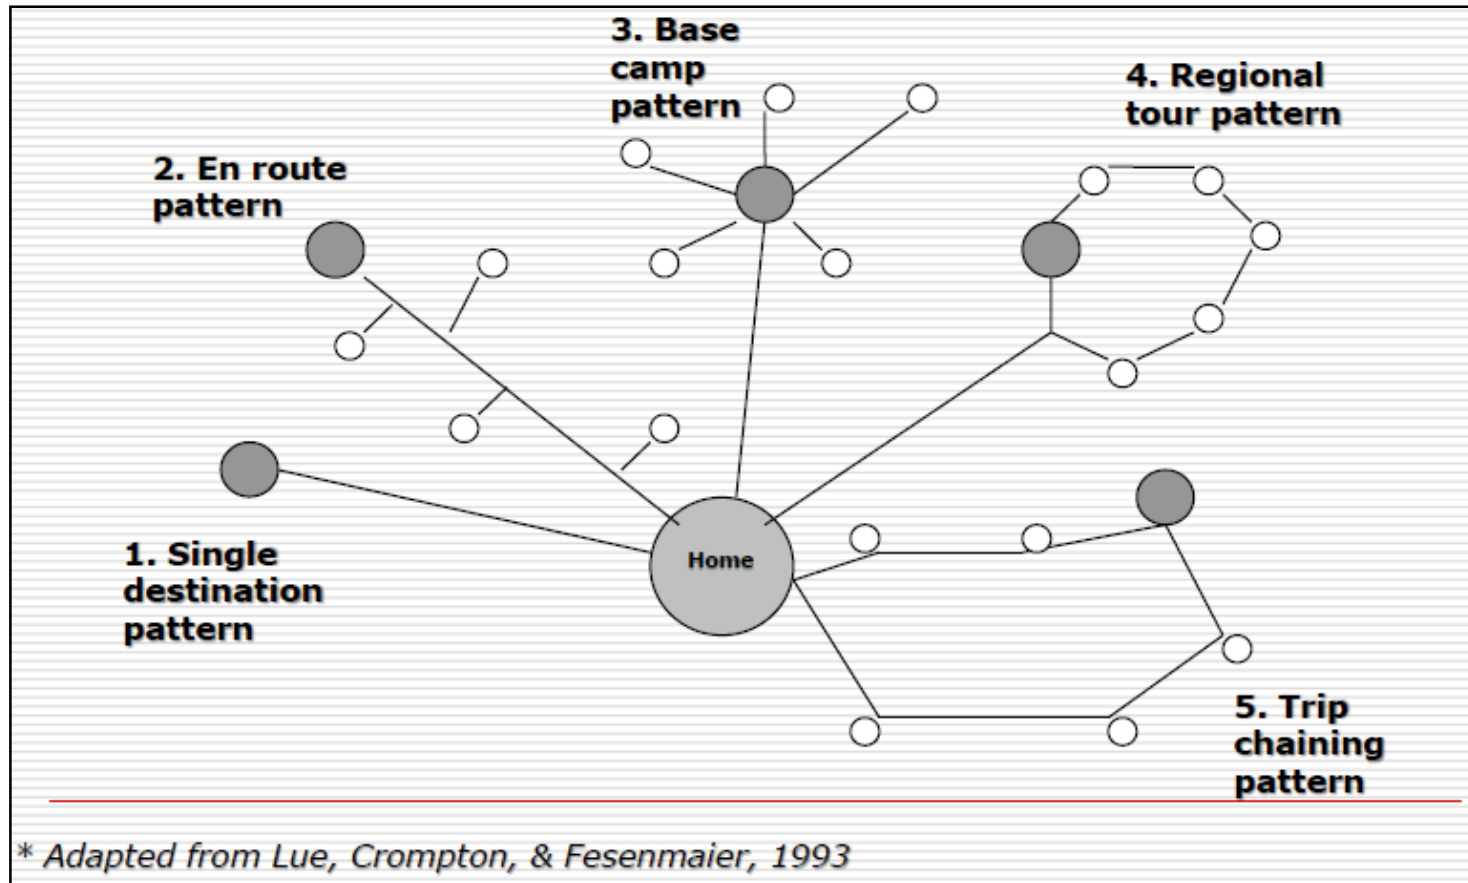

Study YOUR Target Tourists

- Where are they coming from?
- Where else are they going?
- What is their age range?
- Families, individuals or groups?
- Income range?
- What do they want?
- When do they want it?
- Who else offers what they want?
- What do you offer that is competitive or complimentary?
- What will keep them coming back for more?

Where Else are they Going? (Who are your partners?)

Assessing what you have

- Agriculture has Unique Features and Benefits and YOU have Very Special Stories to Share

Review your physical resources

- Land ownership or access
- Land Use, soil type
- Land Features, Water Bodies
- Farmstead Features
- Additional Attractions

Side-note: Your neighbors' land use

- As you inventory your own properties, you also have to think about the broader picture.
- How are your neighbors using their land?
- How do you affect your neighbors?
- How do your neighbors affect you?

Farm and ranch activities

- What current farm or ranch activities might appeal to the public? What you consider routine might be unusual and interesting to the non-farming public.

Examples:

- Cattle drives
- Viewing baby animals
- Pastured poultry operations
- Sheep sheering
- Fruit tree pruning
- On-site food processing
- Roadside produce stands
- Harvesting, U-Pick

Assess your Financial Resources

- What are your financial resources?
- Do you have access to capital?
- What are your start-up costs?
- What can you realistically afford to spend?
- How much money are you willing and able to risk?

What are YOUR Personal Skills?

- Do you like to entertain & serve strangers?
- Are you patient and sensitive to the needs of visitors?
- Do you have the physical stamina and vigor to maintain your operation while properly serving customers?
- BE HONEST!

Your special skills and knowledge

Knowledge and skills are intangible assets that can help create a farm or ranch tourism operation

Some examples:

- Livestock management
- Gardening
- Local history, natural history
- Cooking, food preservation
- Horseback riding
- Music, arts and crafts
- Brewing or winemaking

Rate your Human Resources

- Staff: Family & Hired
- Management Team
- Neighbors
- Government Staff & Officials
- Business & Tourism Associations
- Other Local Businesses

What you can do - Defining limitations

- Good neighbor limitations
- Natural resource limitations
- Human Resource limitations
- Legal limitations

Legal limitations

- Zoning, permitting
- Easements
- Building codes
- Septic requirements
- Labor laws
- Food safety
- Direct marketing – reselling regulation
- Liability

Have your goals changed?

Remember to consider:

- Are the goals realistic and achievable?
- Will your acreage support what you want to do?
- Do you have enough money?
- Who is going to do the work?
- How long will it take?

Now... Evaluate some Possibilities

- Consider different potential agritourism activities
- With family or management team, ask evaluation questions for each activity
- List pros and cons for each of the possible activities
- Think about where, sketch a map
