

February Vegetable Planting Guide

Peg Smith, UC Master Gardener, Yolo County

All recommended planting dates are best-case average scenarios. However, changing weather may alter the schedule. Always be aware of colder or warmer weather than usual and adjust your planting to fit. The success of transplants of the brassica family, cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli etc., will depend on the number of nights with temperatures around 45°F and cool early spring temperatures. Cooler spring temperatures will yield better spring brassica crops.
