This form is used to supplement a BSAS Funding Request Form when requesting funding for office ergonomic equipment. Complete the information below for each person who will receive office ergonomic equipment and attach this form to the BSAS Funding Request. List each specific item you are requesting, the condition it is intended to correct, and what outcome you expect. Attach any additional information that supports your request.

Example #1: Request Workrite Banana board keyboard tray to allow employee to alternate use of the mouse between their right and left hands. Expect reduced chance of an injury to right hand from overuse of mouse.

Example #2: Request Steelcase Criterion chair for this employee because the armrest of their current chair does not adjust adequately for proper support of their arms. Improved support of their arms will decrease risk for shoulder or neck injury from inadequate support of the arms during prolonged work on the keyboard.

Instructions to request funding for purchase of office ergonomic equipment (chairs, keyboard tray, etc.):

1. Complete the required forms in their entirety. Departments should compile all office ergonomic requests and use a BSAS Funding Request Form to summarize the total dollars requested, up to a maximum of $1,000 per location. Incomplete or illegible forms will not be processed. Provide all required signatures before submission.
2. Requests for ergonomic-related office equipment must be accompanied by this "Office Ergonomic Equipment Request" form. When requesting funds for ergonomic equipment, the requesting department must provide at least a 50% match to BSAS funds. For example, when requesting funding to purchase a chair that costs $500, BSAS will fund $250 and the requesting department must provide $250 toward the purchase.
3. In order to maximize the benefits of this program, the BSAS portion of funding for office ergonomic equipment will be capped at $250 per workstation. Risk & Safety Services will consider exceptions to this limit on a case-by-case basis.
4. Prior to submitting this request, an ergonomic evaluation (either online or in-person) must be conducted for each individual requesting ergonomic equipment. The evaluation should demonstrate the need for the requested equipment to prevent or reduce an injury. See the ANR EH&S website <http://ucanr.edu/ergonomics> or contact us for assistance with ergonomic evaluations or training.
5. In order to assure that office products are of a high quality and contain ergonomic features, ANR Risk & Safety Services has developed an Ergonomic Equipment Catalog featuring common chairs, keyboards, keyboard trays, pointing devices, and other items. The catalog can be viewed on our website at:
http://safety.ucanr.edu/Safety\_Training\_Resources/Ergonomic\_Training/Equipment\_Catalog/.

Anyone considering the purchase of ergonomic office equipment is encouraged to review this Ergonomic Equipment Catalog before making a decision. In addition, some of the products on the catalog are available from ANR Risk & Safety Services or from the UC Davis Furniture Program for loan or trial before making a purchase.
