UC California Naturalist and our UC Agriculture & Natural Resources statewide program partner Project Learning Tree (PLT) have joined forces to offer a series of professional development trainings in 2020. Learn how to integrate the award-winning PLT curriculum into your virtual and in-person programs and teaching and become a certified Project Learning Tree Educator upon completion of the 6-hour curriculum.

We'll explore ways to get students away from their screen and into the nature in their yard or schoolyard using the 5 E's methods of Engage, Explore, Explain, Elaborate, and Evaluate. These trainings are geared towards K-8 informal and classroom teachers, as well as home schooling parents. Curriculum may be easily modified for older students and a variety of audiences. All interaction will take place on Zoom.

Cost: $20 or $15 for certified UC California Naturalists. The September 15-18 training is FREE for all UC ANR employees. Continuing Education Units are available through Cal State San Marcos for an additional nominal fee. Registration for all events is limited to 20 participants, so please register early.
