

THIRD THURSDAYS: THINGS FROM THE FIELD

WHAT IS IT?

An opportunity for orchard growers, managers, and industry members to meet UCCE orchard advisors and specialists in a casual setting and discuss seasonal issues from the field.

Orchard management topics:

The first hour will feature lunch, a UCCE talk and Q&A on an orchard topic relevant to the time of year. In January, Dr. Domena Agyeman will discuss how to use UC cost studies for walnut and peach, and demonstrate how to utilize the excel versions of cost studies to customize the results for your own operation. We'll be using the walnut cost study as an example, but these techniques can be applied to any commodity cost study.

Open discussion:

Continued Q&A about cost studies, or a chance to bring observations, questions, and pictures about your orchards for UCCE advisors and the group to address.
