Growing Tomatoes (Zoom)

Sunday, April 16, 3-4pm

Explore everything from planting tips, site selection, and soil prep, to tricks to growing the best-flavored Tomatoes. Also learn how to avoid pests and disease and some tips on trellises and supports, too. Find out what else you can plant and do now in your edible garden area. Register for link.

Garden Design (in-person)

Saturday, April 29th 10am-12pm

Join UC Master Gardeners for this free on-site workshop about garden design at our Las Flores Learning Garden. We will provide significant points and informational links to explore prior to beginning any garden design project. The goal of this workshop is for the home gardener to be informed about garden design basics and be better prepared to take on a DIY project, hire a landscape professional or use a combination of both options. Space is limited. Register Now.

Resilient Landscaping for Fire and

Drought Prevention

Thursday, May 4th 6-7 pm (in-person) Library Talk

Learn about resilient landscaping for both drought and fire protection. We will discuss practical ideas that you can apply immediately for an aesthetically pleasing, yet protected landscape. UC Master Gardeners will also provide you with many good resources for more information on this and related fire and drought-preventive topics. Held in the Community Room at the Napa Library. Space is limited. Register Now!
